Review

Irvine and Tuthill live this lifestyle and know how to make nutrition for it appealing. I got a lot of great ideas flipping through these pages and I thought I already knew how to make clean food gourmet. I guess I'll have to add a few more recipes to my repertoire. Great work all around! A must-read for people who can't stay on track with their diets. -Sean Hyson, Training Director, Muscle & Fitness and Men's Fitness

This book is aimed at you and me, the everyday people who struggle with meeting their diet and exercise goals amidst a world of high stress and fast food. Irvine brings his I m harsh because I care flair to the book in an effort to help you maximize your fitness and finally reach your own personal mountaintop. While Irvine has done cookbooks before (two to be exact), this marks his first all-around fitness publication. And I think the medium fits him quite well. The thing about Chef Irvine is that you can easily boil his philosophies down into tiny soundbites and reflect on them long past your initial introduction. This isn't because what he espouses is basic or easy it's because he's smart enough to demystify complexity and deliver exactly what you need when you need it. --Joel Higgins, BookTrib.com

About the Author

With more than 25 years in the culinary profession, there aren't many places Chef Robert Irvine hasn't cooked or challenges he hasn't had to cook his way out of. During his time in the British Royal Navy and in the years that followed, Robert has cooked his way through Europe, the Far East, the Caribbean and the Americas, in hotels, on the high seas and even for the Academy Awards; and that was before his career in TV. As the host of one of the Food Network's highest rated shows, Restaurant: Impossible, going on it's 12th season, Robert is best known for saving struggling restaurants across America by assessing and overhauling the restaurant's weakest spots.

Going on its fourth year, Robert continues to tour his live show, Robert Irvine LIVE, across the US. Robert is the author of three cookbooks, Mission: Cook! and Impossible to Easy; and FIT Fuel, a lifestyle -food and fitness- book. Robert was previously the host of Fitness: Impossible, A Hero's Welcome, Food Network's Restaurant Express, Dinner: Impossible and Worst Cooks in America. At the start of his TV career Robert owned and operated two restaurants in Hilton Head, SC, Robert Irvine's Eat! and NOSH. In 2014, with proceeds from his various ventures and contributions from his fans, Robert launched the Robert Irvine Foundation to benefit members of our military, first responders and their families.

With more than 25 years in the culinary profession, Chef Robert Irvine has cooked his way through Europe, the Far East, the Caribbean and the Americas in hotels and on the high seas. He's best known as the host of one of Food Network's highest-rated shows, Restaurant: Impossible, but equally recognized for his muscular physique and healthy lifestyle focus that once earned him recognition as one of the top 25 Fittest Guys in America by Men's Fitness magazine.

With the release of Fit Fuel: A Chef's Guide to Eating Well, Getting Fit, and Living Your Best Life, Chef Irvine translates his tough love tactics from the failing restaurant owner to the everyday man and woman struggling to get their health and fitness goals on track.

Developed from Robert Irvine's lifetime of training and nutritional knowledge, with support from distinguished fitness writer Matt Tuthill, Fit Fuel is packed from cover to cover with equal parts inspiration and information that can change your life forever.

The book is divided into three parts, the first of which examines the mental aspects of goal setting, habit forming, and long-term maintenance. Here, Chef Irvine provides encouraging, digestible ideas of how to change the way we see and think about food, ourselves, and our own unlimited potential. Just as he's done in season after season of Restaurant: Impossible, Chef Irvine provides readers with the same no-excuses encouragement and mental coaching in Fit Fuel, motivating with tools, resources, and inspiration every step of the way.

The second section of the book focuses on training, with an easy-to-follow resistance training program, demonstrated through A and B photography and well-defined techniques that the 49-year-old British Royal Navy veteran considers fundamental to his own lean and muscular physique. In addition to the main program, there are time-saving workouts, as well as a full starter's program for any beginner who might find the main program too daunting off the bat.

In its final section, Fit Fuel provides recipes for breakfast, lunch, dinner, and dessert, all illustrated with realistic photography and step-by-step instructions. Few dishes or main ingredients are overlooked, despite their unmerited reputations as no-no foods. From pancakes to salads, beef to fish, Chef Irvine challenges the idea of good vs. bad as it pertains to the everyday diet, emphasizing the fact that healthy eating does not require deprivation.

When you're finally ready to achieve your full potential, Fit Fuel awaits.

Not just another diet/exercise book

By Amazon Customer

First off, let me say how pleasantly surprised I was at the size and quality of the book itself. The pictures really pop off the page and there's a great weight to the book itself.

Let me say that I'm still in the process of reading it, but I can already see the benefits of keeping this book on the coffee table and using it time and time again as a source of reference.

I really enjoy the mind-body element of the book and how readers are encouraged to change from within before making any physical changes. For me, this is what separates this book from all of the other diet/exercise books out there.

The recipes are easy to follow and the pictures look great (and real!). The shopping tips are great! The exercise section really has something for everyone. Bodybuilding, powerlifting, cardio, HIIT, and time saving workouts.

I would highly recommend this book and can honestly say I will be coming back to this book over and over!
Well done!
