A book every rehabilitation counseling student wants

By J. Hughes

I am a rehabilitation counseling student in my third semester of the masters program. My academic advisor knows how much I love books and showed me her latest book purchase. I had to have it and so I too purchased it. Now everyone who sees it wants it too.

It has everything, it is much easier to read this book when studying for comps or the crc exam then lugging around your ethics book, intro to counseling book, your theories books, and case management books. This book has it all and it gets to the point.

Its actually great. I really would like a newer addition

By Jessica D. Scott

I was supposed to have this book when I was in grad school, but I didn't purchase it. Now that I am getting ready for the CRC, I purchased it maybe a year or so ago. Its actually great. I really would like a newer addition, but I think this one is just fine. Especially for the price I got it for.
